Graceful Spire Comes Down

Workmen Raze Old Church

By Frank Luecke
Progress sometimes rings a melancholy note in the memories of long-time Cameron residents.

Such is the tone sensed by city residents who watched workmen this week dismantle the old Church of Christ building, Third St. and N. Central.

Formerly the First Presbyterian Church, the graceful, spired sanctuary has been a landmark on the Cameron skyline since its construction in 1837 by the Presbyterian congregation.

The congregation of the Church of Christ is building a one-story, brick structure in its stead. The $30,000, airconditioned building will be opened this fall, according to O. A. White, chairman of the building committee.

As happy as Cameronites are to see new replacing the old, a nostalgic air seems to pervade the atmosphere surrounding the old structure.

First Presbyterian Church records show that the old church was completed and occupied by the congregation the first Sunday in April, 1837.

Church Cost $6,500

Cost of the wood-panel structure was $6,500, including a $1,500 miscalculation in construction estimates. Builders today smile when they compare costs then with present construction costs.

Church records, furnished by Drayton McLane, Presbyterian Church official, note that a W. B. Streetman raised the extra $1,500 in one day by solicitation among church members.

The Church of Christ was presented the structure by R. L. Batte in 1926 when he purchased it from the Presbyterian congregation. The Presbyterians moved into their present structure after dedication ceremonies March 4, 1928.

LANDMARK COMES DOWN—The Church of Christ building, 100 E. Third St., was being pulled down by workmen this week to make way for a new $30,000 one-story church structure to be erected in the next few months. The familiar frame-spired building, formerly the Presbyterian Church, has graced the Cameron skyline since construction about 1837.

The Church of Christ, then a small congregation, moved into their sanctuary about the same time.

The beautiful spired church was the first sanctuary for the Presbyterian congregation since its organization in 1832, records show.

To Seat 250

When the building is cleared, a new one-story structure will rise with seating capacity for about 250 people. The present Church of Christ congregation numbers about 100.

Serving on the building committee for the spired structure in 1886 were John M. Hefley, T. E. Lankford, John B. McLane, E. J. McIver and W. D. Paden.

Years later when the Presbyterians moved to their present church home, 102 E. Fourth St., the frame church was moved to its present site from property now occupied by Hefley-Stedman Motor Co.

It will be a long time, early residents agree, before the old spired church will be forgotten.

Farmers Starting Milo Crop

Cloudy Weather
Delays Harvest,
Buyers Report

The maize crop harvest started this week in Milam County as cloudy weather and intermittent showers kept farmers watching the skies before the final harvest push.

Milo buyers in Cameron reported that short rushes of trucks loaded with the grain would hit them after clouds would clear into sunny skies.

But they expected farmers to bring in the maize grain crop when weather becomes clear and hot for several continuous days.

County Crop Good

County Agent J. D. Moore reported the maize crop looking good throughout the county.

He also reported that the cotton was holding up well despite recent intense heat though cotton bolls were cracking in some Milam fields.

He expected cotton picking to begin in parts of the county by next week.

Richard Ellison, Baileyville farmer, took in the first bale of 1957 cotton from the county, Moore reported.

Moore was optimistic about the maize, corn and hay crops, which, he said, look good. He pointed out that they were developing better than expected after heavy spring rains and the July drought.

In the produce field, Moore said the watermelons were much better than expected. Cantaloupes were good this season, he added.

City Takes Option On 29 Acres For Filtration Plant, Delays Bid

Council Calls For Further Estimates

City fathers called for further estimates Tuesday on the cost of curb and guttering along the proposed widening of US 77-SH 36 in Cameron.

City Secretary Wayne Wieser read a letter from the State Highway Dept., dated March 22, that set an estimate of about $10,000 for the city's cost in meeting state curb and gutter requirements.

The state has offered to place the project on its construction agenda, pending availability of city funds for the curb, gutter and sidewalk replacement.

Resolution Prompts Talks

Discussion was prompted Tuesday night by a resolution from the City Commissioners Court condemning delay in getting the project underway.

Councilmen pointed out that the state was previously advised that funds for the city's share of the cost would not be available until the new fiscal year, October 1.

The council said that replacing a few sidewalks and driveways may push the cost above the $10,000 estimate.

In other action the council heard Fire Marshall John Eanes report that only eight of 64 property owners whose lots needed clearing have failed to comply with clearing requests.

64 Contacted

He said that he had written 54 and contacted 10 others. Those lots still uncleared of weeds are primarily owned by out-of-town owners, he said.

The council also

ONE—Approved repair of tables

in Ledbetter Park and calling for local bids for light equipment for the Negro park.

TWO—Asked that the city lot in the east part of the city be cleared of weeds.

THREE—Referred three property owners who sought city water services to new out-of-limits housing developments to the city planning commission. A board meeting was to be held Wednesday night if commission members could be reached in advance.

Bloodmobile Due Here August 14 For Donations

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Cameron Wednesday, August 14, to receive donations to the Central Texas Regional Blood Center, according to Richard Moseley, local chairman of the blood committee.

The donor center will be set up in the air conditioned basement of the First Presbyterian Church and will be in operation from noon to 6 p.m.

A quota of 70 pints has been set. Citizens are urged to help reach this quota in order that sufficient blood will be available when the people of Milam County need it, Moseley said.

During the past few years, according to the records of the center, Milam County has used more blood each year than has been donated. Approximately one pint of blood every 15 hours of every day in the year is furnished to Milam County through the blood program.

Blood is provided without cost to the patients, except for a nominal hospital charge for actual administration and processing, he pointed out.

The Rev. John Solomon, chairman of recruiting, reminds that persons between the ages of 21 and 60 may donate blood. Those between 18 and 21 may give with their parents consent.

A local physician is on duty continuously and must give approval of good health before a donation is received. Dr. Clifford Swift is chairman of the physicians committee.

CAMERON QUEEN—Miss Wanda Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kirk, Cameron, will represent the Cameron Chamber of Commerce on East Texas Day at the State Fair October 15 in Dallas. She will appear with queen representatives from other East Texas cities in television and radio appearances and a personal appearance in the Cotton Bowl that night. She is a senior this fall at Yoe High School.

July Fines Total $467 In Cameron, Chief Announces

Maynard Byers, city police chief, Tuesday reported a total of $467 in fines collected in city court for 36 traffic and peace violations in July.

Speeding violations led the total with 19 offenders who paid $172.50 in fines. Second high violation was driving without a license, costing five offenders a total of $91.

Other violations and fines were: drunk, five for $86; installment payment of fines, three for $12.50; running stop signs, five for $25; disturbing the peace, two for $43; running red blinker or lights, three for $15; illegal parking, one for $2; and improper starting, two for $20.

July violations were down about $260 from June when 63 violations cost offenders $724.55 in fines.

Speeding was also the top June offense with $193.50 in fines levied on nine violations.

Engineer Says Lagoon System OK For Cameron

The City Council Tuesday night voted to take a $200 option on 29 acres of land for the proposed city sewage system and postponed bid call for the water plant until August 29.

They heard Norman F. Strachan, representative of the Joe J. Rady & Co., Fort Worth consulting engineers working on the project plans, advise using the lagoon system instead of the more expensive trickle water system.

He told The Herald that the water system could be ready for use by January 1, 1958, if construction began by October 15. And the new sewage system could be ready by May 1, 1958, if work began by January 1, he said.

Richard Williams, city real estate representative, told councilmen the land east of the city could be purchased for $10,000 or a part of the 29-acre tract for $344.83 per acre.

Council Approves Option

The Council resolved to take option on the land pending final decision on the type of system to be used.

Strachan said the lagoon system would be satisfactory for Cameron for the next 10-15 years and would cost $100,000 less than the trickle system. He said the latter costs about $25 per capita.

The filtration system is being planned for potential growth of 12,000 population. A preliminary survey last year by the engineering firm indicated steady growth would bring Cameron's population to about 12,000 people in the next 10-15 years.

Strachan pointed out that the lagoon system, which he said is "relatively inexpensive to build," would require 2.2 acres per thousand population.

The Sanders family, owners of the property, requested half the mineral rights, but were offered one-half royalty rights.

City voters last September approved a $175,000 bond issue for the sewage treatment plant while the federal government granted Cameron $52,931.70 for about one-third of the sewage system cost.

A new filtration plant will give Cameron state approved water.

Strachan recommended the purchase of enough acreage for the lagoon system prior to a resolution by Councilman Richard Moseley that the 29-acre, 90-day option was unanimous.

Intake Station Work Starts

In other waterwork developments, W. D. Bigbee, public works superintendent, told The Herald that workmen and machinery moved in Monday to begin work on the intake pump station at Little River for the new water system.

A new 16-inch waterline has already been completed to the city reservoirs and is in use at present, Bigbee said.

The Elm Forks Construction Co. began work this week on a culvert dam. They moved in bulldozers and pile-drivers for the first work.

Kiwanis Planning Picnic Tonight

The Cameron Kiwanis Club will hold its annual family night at City Park Pavilion 6:30 tonight, according to Billy Peck, public relations committee member.

Kiwanis families will bring the food, he said, while cold soft drinks will be furnished by the club.

Members are invited to bring the whole family to the outing tonight, he added.

Workmen Pour Foundations At Projects

Work began Tuesday on the concrete foundations of the federal housing project in Cameron.

The project has been underway since May.

Officials said the work would move along much faster since foundation work has begun.

Coffield Construction Co., Rockdale, is building the two housing projects totaling 50 units.

A 36-unit white development is being built near the city limits in northeast Cameron. A non-white development with 14 units is going up on West 12th St.

Concrete was being poured at the northeast project first foundation work scheduled at the non-white project later this week.

The units will vary from one to four bedroom dwellings built in duplex form. The structures will be of brick and stone outside and cement block within.

Narvie Caperton, chairman of the Cameron Housing Authority, said the developments will include shrubs, landscaping and accompanying streets and sewage lines.

Service lines and other ground work have been completed, he said.

Coffield Construction Co. won the low bid at about $455,000.

Leland Tindall Joins The Herald

Leland Tindall, former resident of Cameron, has rejoined the production staff of The Herald as job printer.

He and Mrs. Tindall and their two children moved to Cameron last week-end from McGregor where he was employed on the newspaper staff there.

Tindall began his printing career at The Herald as a youngster, leaving here about three and one-half years ago to work on the Greenville Banner, a daily paper.

He succeeds Steve Sukup who joined the production staff of the Temple Telegram.

The Tindalls are residing at 709 North Milam.

FB President Hits At Road Proposals

Milam County may have seen its last mile of farm-to-market road construction if a recommended change in the state's rural road program is approved, O. G. Tumlinson, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, has declared.

Tumlinson said the Texas Research League is advocating that laws governing construction of farm-to-market roads be changed.

In a study made for the Texas Highway Commission, the League said the change would prevent the state from becoming burdened with a rural road program far in excess of its needs.

It said that part of the funds earmarked for farm-to-market road construction should be used for maintenance.

145 Miles Unpaved

"We have about 145.72 miles of unpaved rural roads right here in Milam County," Tumlinson said. "If the rural road program is changed to suit those who want to get our farm-to-market road building funds, we may never see another mile of country road paved in the county."

The county farm organization leader said that 25,000 miles of rural roads have been paved under the farm-market rural road program, but that more than 100,000 miles remain unpaved.

He pointed out that the $36 million spent for farm-to-market road construction and improvement last year was less than one-tenth of the total state expenditure on highways.

Tumlinson charged that the plan to use funds earmarked for construction to pay maintenance costs was designed to limit building of an adequate rural road system.

Face Reduced Program?

He further contended that rural interests, in lobbying for the rural road program, had to be satisfied with less than the amount thought necessary to finance the program.

They urge recipients to come only on days assigned to their routes or communities.

Draft Call Goes To 3 Countians, Board Announces

Three men have been ordered to report for induction August 20, according to Milam County Draft Board officials.

They are Bobby Dwayne Yount, Walter Lewis Clark and John David Ricketts.

Officials said the September quota will be two men with orders due out later this month.

Thirteen young men reached the age of 18 during July and registered. They were: William Ray Dees, Jackie Wayne Yount, Marcelino Lara Munoz, Bobby Gene Scroggins, Quincy Charles Pratt, Joe Lee Eichinger, Harold Gene Pimlee, Paul Gene McNeil, Frank Moorman Crump, Willie Lee Nelson, Alvin Eugene Gibson, Lewis Walter Moore and Melvin Roy Weise.

Officials also pointed out that change-of-status reminders have been mailed to men in the 1922-25 year group.

Response, they said, has been excellent although many inquiries are coming back due to outdated mailing addresses. The board asks these men to notify officials of their latest address.

With Cammers in Japan

Farms, Festival Fascinate Couple

By Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cammer

Here's the latest dispatch written for The Herald by Mr. and Mrs. Cammer on their five-week tour of Japan. Another installment is on an inside page of this issue.—Ed.

FUSSA, Japan, August 1—We have seen a bit of Tokyo and lots of Japan.

The country is beautiful. In fact, words can hardly describe the beauty of this countryside.

The farms are one to five acres according to the way their crops are planted. About one-fourth acre usually is in potatoes, half-acre in corn and quarter-acre in corn, beans and squash.

They plant their little farms in squares, making them a pretty sight. Of course all their farm work is done by hand. We saw them in the fields early in the morning and late in the afternoon on their knees pulling weeds and grass out of the wheat and vegetables. They carry baskets in which they put the weeds and grass.

Vegetables Long
This is the vegetable season.

Their vegetables are very large, featuring fresh onions 12 to 14 inches long and carrots about the same length. Similarly, their squash and tomatoes are quite large and very tasty.

We were quite impressed by the sight of the small homes and farms on the side of the mountains. It's just like a picture. Another interesting sight is the slow rains that fall so frequently here.

We have found, as most everyone knows, that rice is the staple food here. But they cook their rice in a different way that makes the dish more palatable.

We find that daintiness is characteristic of a Japanese meal. Japanese cooks take great pride in having the table and food look attractive. We have tried the main native dish, sukiyaki, though Western dishes are available in all the cities.

Suki-yaki is sort of a beef stew cooked at the table. They add fresh prawns and chicken, all deep fried.

Other native foods include pork and beef steamed with egg custard in a bowl, fresh raw fish, broiled mushrooms, dried seaweed and bean curd.

The national drink seems to be green tea. And natives here consider Kobayaki or broiled eels a great delicacy.

July 21 we saw one of the three biggest Shinto festivals in Japan.

Carnival Highlights

Highlight of the festival was a river carnival that featured more than 100 floats bedecked in flags and dolls representing historical figures. The floats went down the river accompanied by the music of flutes, drums and gongs.

Colorful fireworks lighted the whole scene while several thousand followers dressed in picturesque and ancient costumes boomed it up.

Object of the worship at the shrine at Sugawara is Michizone, a great Shinto scholar, poet-statesman and loyalist of the ninth century.

The other two big Shinto festivals are the Gion festival in Kyoto and Konda Myojin festival in Tokyo.

Another release will be in the mail in a few days.

Milam County's FARM SCENE

Information Now Available On A. S. C. Committeemen Election

J. D. Moore, County Agent
The election of county and community committeemen for 1958 will be completed by October 1.

The local county agent, the head of the Soil Conservation office, the Farmers Home Administration supervisor and the President of the local Farm Bureau are to serve as a county election board.

The county election board shall convene at least 30 days before the date set for return of ballots by farmers and name a community election board for each community. Each community board shall be composed of three farmers living in the community, other than present county or community committeemen.

The purpose of this local community election board is to select 10 eligible persons as nominees for community committeemen. These 10 names will go on ballots to be voted on by all eligible farmers in the local community.

Farmers who receive the most votes will be the community committeemen. At a county meeting, the elected community committeemen will select a county committee who will have the responsibility of directing the county A. S. C. program for 1958, assisted by the elected community committeemen.

Additional information concerning the election is available at any of the offices of the county election board members.

Cotton Insects

Bollworms are showing up only in scattered areas. Farmers are warned to be constantly on the alert for bollworms. Fields should be checked 2 or 3 times each week.

Experiments underway on the A&M College farm, show little difference in results obtained in controlling boll weevils and flea hoppers by using the following materials: Toxaphene-DDT, Dieldrin-DDT, Endrin-DDT, Methyl parathion-DDT as sprays.

The DDT is being used in combination with the above materials to control the bollworm. All of these materials are giving good bollworm control.

Protect Young Trees

First and second year pecan trees should be protected from the direct hot sun by wrapping strips of burlap sacks around the tree trunk from the limb area down to the ground.

The outer layer of bark is too tender for 100 degree sun directly on the young tree. Many young trees die because of the extreme heat. Pesky Leaf Hopper are the small insect that gather in large numbers around the outside lights at night and may even get into the house. These insects stay in the lawns and can be controlled by spraying the lawn with 3 tablespoons of wettable DDT powder to 1 gallon of water.

Boy, 4, Recovering From Injuries Here

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halpain, Cameron is recovering today from injuries received July 31 when he ran in front of a car on US 190 here. Young James Franklin Halpain was taken to St. Edward's Hospital for treatment following the accident for fractured ribs and lacerations.

Investigating officers said the boy was seen running across the street when a car driven by Frank J. Janek, Cameron, came by. Witnesses said, according to police, that the child ran in front of the car.

He was knocked about 12 feet.

By Your Soil Conservationist

About 30 days ago it looked like the Little River bottom land around Cameron would never need any more water, but as is usually the case about this time of the year, the rains stopped.

Then the growing crops and the hot sun take the stored moisture, leaving the crops standing there in need of about one more good slow five inch rain. In this part of the state, five inches of rain in July is highly improbable. To fill in this water shortage, those that are equipped are watering from Little River.

McClaren Irrigating

Hubert McClaren has just completed the application of about five inches of water to about 60 acres of corn, milo, and cotton. He says that this added water is yielding him about 30 more bushels of corn, over 1000 pounds of milo. He is shooting for one and one-fourth bale of cotton.

A similar story comes from others in the district who are applying water. Most of the bottom land is nearly level but needs some smoothing to drain well and give a good smooth application of water.

Many of the irrigation farmers, like McClaren, are making plans to level the rough land as soon as possible so that when the growing crops need the water it can be applied quickly and efficiently.

5 Inches Water Needed

A cotton or corn crop in this area needs about five inches of water every 18 to 23 days in its peak growing season. It is in this season that water conservation is so important. With a conservation irrigation system, very little water is wasted and more acres can be watered when the time is right.

This means higher yields on more acres, conservation of water, cheaper application of water, and above all, less worry about putting the water where it is needed.

Check Your Ponds

Fish can't live without oxygen. At this season of year, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, oxygen depletion in farm fish ponds often causes fish to die. Cooper suggest that fish pond owners secure from their local county agent a copy of B-213, Farm Fish Ponds, for information on summer pond management.

A Summer Bouquet

One final bouquet to the summer recreation program and the Little League teams... they were outstanding.

Residents around town say that this summer's program was the best they could recall in summer recreation for kids. With about 100 boys playing baseball and at least that many girls in the summer girls activities, it was a success.

Don't forget to honor those workers who taught golf, bowling, archery and other sports to the kids outside the baseball diamond. No one was watching, but the youngsters learned quite a bit about their particular-interest sport.

Cameron is indeed fortunate in having the outstanding organizational success experienced this year. It was a city success with the school system furnishing two full-time instructors and facilities, various civic clubs their money and adult leaders and moms and pops providing sincere interest in Juniors success.

Some towns have summer recreation programs where the parents feel that the program is a nifty baby-sitter. But in Cameron the parents followed their kids through the entire season with the same deep interest that started the season.

The Herald hopes that the program will grow even more next summer and more and more... Our kids deserve the best.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

LR Sage Favors Part-Time Farming, No Outside Job

By J. A.

The Little River Philosopher has had another one of his dreams exploded, his letter this week indicates. Ed.

Dear editor:
A lot of experts who don't know that the farm problem is sort of like a family problem - you can solve for a problem today, but there'll be another one tomorrow - have now come up with another solution.

According to them, the answer to the farm problem is part-time farming.

Now when I first read this, I came to attention. That is, I laid my newspaper down in my lap, rested both arms on my chair and looked out into space. Part-time farming is what I've been preaching and practicing for years and I was proud to know the experts in Washington had finally come around to my way of thinking.

But when I returned to my paper and read on, the worse the thing got. Those experts and me are talking about two different things. According to them, part-time farming consists of farming part of the time and working in town the rest of the time. If a man can't make ends meet on the farm, he can't make up the slack by working in a town too.

That's not part-time farming, that's full-time working.

You might as well suggest that a man can't make a living working one farm, let him work two. If a bank clerk can't make a living at the bank in the day time, let him take on the job of night

Capitol Report

Labor Unions Join Forces In 'T' Merger

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN-Labor unions in Texas now are welded into one 300,000 member organization.

The mammoth merger was accomplished at a joint AFL-CIO convention in this capitol city. Sharp internal disagreements heartened those who fear the potential political power of such a massive group.

A resolution, recommended by labor's Civil Rights committee, condemned the 55th Legislature for passing "immoral and undemocratic" laws concerning school segregation. Gulf Coast delegates balked. Finally, the convention compromised by adopting the national AFL-CIO civil rights plank, worded in a more general language.

Delegates also criticized Texas' daily newspapers; the Texas Tech Board of Directors; the Republican Party; and highway contractors. Endorsed were a state income tax on corporations; an increase in individual income tax exemptions; federal aid for school construction; higher pay for teachers; and honesty among union officials.

AFLman Jerry Holleman was elected president. CIOer Fred Schmidt was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Lobby Curb Proposed

With legislative opposition to the special session weakening under Gov. Price Daniel's determined stand, attention now turns toward what the lawmakers might enact.

Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio has drafted a strict lobby control measure. It is patterned after the Federal Law. It would require registration of all persons seeking to influence legislation, for pay. Also it calls for a detailed accounting of money used to influence legislation—where it comes from, how it is spent.

It would hang a heavy sword over the head of any lawmaker or lobbyist found guilty of a bribe arrangement. Penalty up to $25,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment. Corporations involved would lose the right to do business in Texas.

Prayer

Our Father, we thank Thee for the Bible, which tells of the Saviour who is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto Thee by Him. May the Bible in this day be a mighty force in the conversion of sinners to Thy glory. In the Redeemer's name. Amen.

REFUGE and STRENGTH

Into the House of God they have come for spiritual strength and comfort. The care or sorrow or need which brought them here is not important. It is important that the experiences of a lifetime have taught them that God is their refuge and their strength.

The beauty of faith shines in their faces, and from this devout worship they will go forth stronger in spirit.

But faith is not the exclusive possession of age. From childhood to the grave, man may find hope and comfort and peace in God. For faith banishes fear, overcomes difficulties and imparts new life.

In these troubled days, men need religion more than ever before. In the presence of vast powers hitherto unknown, we may feel frustrated and helpless. Human problems lie heavy upon our spirits. But God is a Rock of Refuge and Pillar of Strength to those who trust Him. Come to the House of the Lord.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hedge Trouble?

HD Agent Names 5 Reasons Why Plants May Die

Five enemies of privet or ligustrum often cause dead spots in hedges according to Mrs. Alice Hughes, county home demonstration agent. Sometimes known as West Indian Peach scale, may cause twigs, limbs, or entire plants to die.

Scales are usually less than 2 inch in diameter and lie flat against the bark. They may be mistaken for natural roughness of bark.

Where infestation is heavy, pure white clusters of male scales can be seen along the stems. At a distance they look like bits of cotton lint, she says.

Spider mites make leaves pale and dry. Heavy infestations kill plants. Almost invisible, these tiny insects usually work underneath leaves. They are apt to increase during dry weather.

The white fly draws sap from the plant and stimulates the formation of black mold on leaves. This weakens plants so they may die, especially during unfavorable weather.

Mealybugs also kill by sapping plants. They gather under bark and in rough places on trunk and limbs. Where infestation is heavy, clusters of bugs may be found up and down the stems. Mrs. Hughes continues.

The above pests may be controlled with 4 percent malathion, used as a spray. Apply every 10 days or two weeks.

The lilac borer girdles stems or enters branches causing leaves to wilt and die. Look for signs of boring dust or scars on stems, or split stems and examine for boring caterpillar or hollow stems caused by them. Cut and burn all infected limbs. Most DDT plant sprays will kill the young caterpillars if contacted before they enter the limb.

Examine shrubs in hedges from time to time to prevent damage from insect enemies, Mrs. Hughes advises.

Low Vim - Hot Weather
If your hens show a lack of vim, vigor and vitality, it's not because they're lazy—they're just hot. Some symptoms of this hot and bothered condition, say Bob

Griffin, extension poultry specialist, are low egg production, lower feed consumption, a higher water consumption rate and some death losses.

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. L. Carson, Manager

WONDERFUL WORLD

It's a wonderful world we're living in. Modern day science is making it easier every day to do even the simplest things in life. I read the other day about an oven that will cook a whole meal in minutes — electronically. And there are television sets which can be carried easily from room to room, and radios that fit into your pocket.

The telephone company is keeping pace with modern times, too. Take the telephone itself. We've got wall telephones, hang-up telephones and portable telephones — the kind that you can "plug in" wherever you like.

And we've got telephones with a volume control which can be regulated for low, medium or high — the kind which is especially helpful for people with impaired hearing. There are telephones in eight decorator colors, too — besides black.

But that's only the beginning. Our "Speakerphone" permits the user to talk with both hands free since it's equipped with a microphone and loudspeaker.

A new and popular time-saver is the Answering and Recording set. This machine answers calls while you're away, and records your caller's message.

Those are just a few of the items that are available today, and you can expect even more new ideas in the future. We are keeping your telephone service in tune with modern living.

HOT WEATHER TIP

Plenty of people now days are trying to beat the summer heat by staying outdoors. With backyard living so popular, I'd like to suggest that you allow your friends a little more time to answer the next time you call.

We suggest letting the telephone ring ten times — that's about a minute — before you hang up. That way, the person you are calling might find it easier to get to his telephone to answer.

If you spend lots of time outdoors, you'll appreciate this little added courtesy when friends call you, too. Nobody likes to make a mad dash when the telephone rings, only to find there's no one on the line.

SPEED YOUR CALLS
Many of our customers have found out that their calls go through a lot faster when they call by number. In fact, we think you'll discover they go through twice as fast that way.

If you don't know the number, the operators will be glad to obtain it for you — then jot it down for use later on. Blue Books are just the thing to keep your numbers in, too, and they are available without charge at the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY... FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy!

No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices.

Fords cost less to run!

In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This, remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars... supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

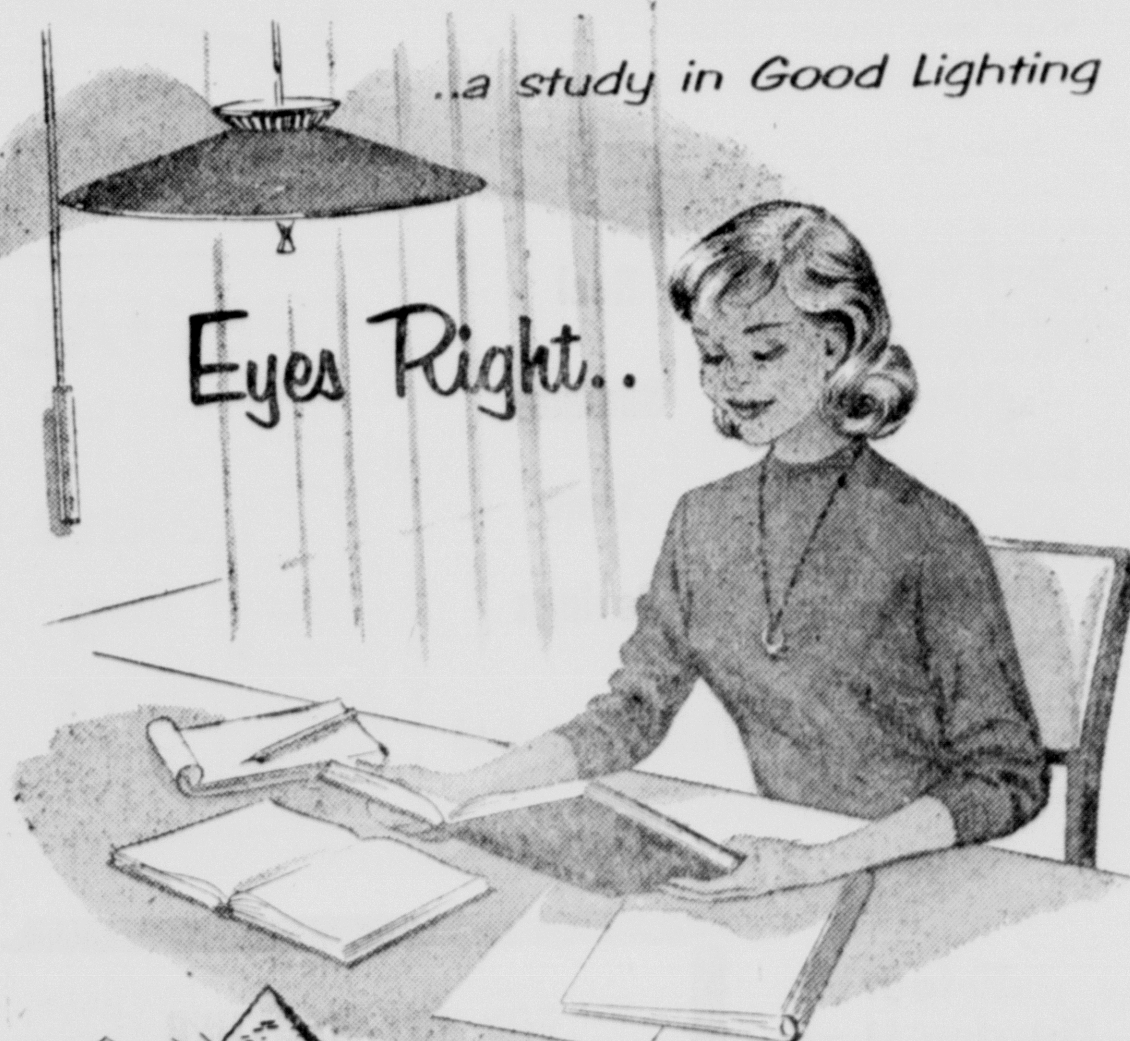

Fords cost less to trade!

Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!

Alcoa Plans Fish Rodeo At Plant Lake This Month

A 17-day Alcoa Lake Family Fish Rodeo — first to be staged at the 850 acre lake — gets underway next week with more than $200 in prizes and trophies offered for both family groups and individual anglers.

The tournament starts Saturday, August 17, and winds up with the awarding of grand prizes Labor Day.

First week of the contest will be open only to employees and families of Alcoa's Rockdale Works and Industrial Generating Company, according to Lake concessionaire W. T. Whatley.

Competition will be open to all starting August 24. Whatley said a long list of prizes will be offered. Top merchandise award will be an Ambassador reel and Heddon Superlative rod worth $75. Other valuable fishing gear and two trophies will be awarded during the Rodeo.

Sports and Outdoor editors from several Central Texas newspapers will act as judges during the meet.

Whatley said that "although the first week of the contest is open to Rockdale Works employees only, the public is not restricted from fishing in the Lake at that time."

"In fact," he said, "fishing has never been better than it is now. We expect big crowds during the entire 17 days. We set an all-time record for fish caught in one month during July. During the first four days of August, 926 crappie and 192 other fish were caught."

Prizes will be offered for fish caught both from boats and from the shore during the tournament. Regular fishing permits, secured at the Lake concession house, will serve as entry blanks for the contest.

Cammers Find Tokyo Exciting, Beautiful

By Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cammer
Here's the second in a series of special dispatches from Fussa, Japan about the sights and scenes enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Cammer, Cameron, on their five-week tour of that oriental island empire. Ed. FUSSA, Japan - July 25 - Everything is different in and around Tokyo.

Just going out into the streets of Tokyo is a novel sightseeing tour in itself. But here are some of the highlights of our first Tokyo visit.

You would want to see the Imperial Palace even though the inner enclosure is not open to the public.

Then there's Hibiya Park opposite the Imperial Hotel where you can walk or drive through a glorious array of flowers during the spring and fall seasons of the year. You will see the Azateas in May and the Chrysanthemums in November.

In Shiba Park is the famous Zo-jo-ji Temple. The lovely palace gardens are just a short distance from the temple. Along the way you see Veno Park, long noted for its cherry blossoms. It contains the National Museum, the Zoological Garden, the Metropolitan Art Gallery, the Imperial Library and a monument to Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, of all people.

Shopping is a must on Ginza Street, the main Tokyo shopping thoroughfare. Elsewhere, sightseeing buses with English-speaking guides run twice daily and take you through the most fascinating, exciting parts of this metropolis.

There are picturesque tours which take you to parts of Japan which are most interesting to foreign tourists.

Starting at Tokyo, you drive to Kakone National Park and Atomi Hot Springs Resorts. You pass through Kamakura, the site of the shrine of the Great Buddha. You may climb inside the Buddha to shoulder level.

A short distance from the Buddha is Hachiman Shrine, one of the oldest temples in Japan that's located in a grove of cherry trees.

You may go on to Hakone Mountains as we did to the Fujiya Hotel, one of Japan's most elegant hotels at Miyonoshita high in the mountains. Or there is Hakone Hotel on the shore of Lake Hakone.

This is one of the tours you could take. It is the first completed of several we have planned.
